

Japan

Nihon

by Josh

Cuisine (Ryori)

The Japanese base their cuisine mainly on rice like the famous dish of sushi. They also eat noodles (Ramen). Other ingredients include seaweed and soy sauce.

The Japanese also eat whale and a very expensive beef called Wagyu.
Yummy!

History (rekishi)

Japan has a rich history, but I will focus on WWII. Japan was part of the Axis powers, so they were on the same side as Germany. They fought against Russia, the British Empire, France and America. The Axis powers lost the war, but Japan suffered the worst. The USA unleashed two nuclear bombs on the cities of Hiroshima and Nagasaki. This led to surrender.

Language (Gengo)

Did you know that the Japanese language has three alphabets? It's true! They are called Hiragana, Kanji and Katakana. Kanji is the exact same as the Chinese alphabet! One to 10 in Japanese is ichi, ni, san, yon, go, roku, nana, hachi, kyu, juu.

片仮名 (カタカナ) katakana

[illegible]

Thank you and goodnight!